

IT Fundamentals Guided Notes (ANSWER KEY)

Lesson 3.3.3 - Business Software

1. What is business software?

Software built for business purposes including tracking money, data, projects, etc.

2. What does database software allow for?

The creation and editing of large pools of data.

3. What is some popular database software?

Answers may vary, example answers include:

- Microsoft SQL server
- Oracle Database
- MySQL

4. What is Project Management software good for?

Keeping projects organized by tracking progress, keeping things organized, etc.

5. Name some Project Management software currently used.

Answers can vary, example answers include:

- Microsoft Project
- LiquidPlanner
- Github

6. What does accounting software track?

Monetary transactions, when money comes in and out, profits, revenue, disbursements, timing, etc.

7. How do business specific applications differ from business software?

Business specific applications are built specifically for a company/or project where business software is more generalized.